Question:
Why do we pray to saints?

Answer:
Have you ever heard jokes about Catholics and big families? Well, our family is much, much bigger than most of us can imagine! Our family transcends the here and now. It includes heaven! Your great, great grandmother may have passed away, but does that make her any less your family? Of course not! We have a similar perspective when it comes to our baptized Christian community. We are brothers and sisters in Christ and that extends beyond the grave.

The saints are women and men who have led such exemplary lives on earth we can be certain that they're in heaven. That means their focus is on worshipping God and loving all that God loves, including us. When we pray to saints, we're actually asking for their prayers. If something challenging was going on in your life, you might consider asking someone close to you for their prayers. When we ask for the intercession of saints, we're inviting them into our needs and concerns. I hope we're ready to help a loved one who needs it. The saints are ready to pray for us, so we can grow in relationship with God, love our neighbor, and join them in heaven one day!

Bishop Joseph M. Siegel will celebrate the Diocese of Evansville's 2019 White Mass for healthcare professionals at 6:00 p.m. Central Time October 29 at St. Joseph Parish in Princeton. The White Mass dates to the development of the national Catholic Medical Association in the 1930s, and is celebrated on or near the October 18 Feast of St. Luke, patron of healthcare professionals. As noted on the Catholic Medical Association website, the White Mass gathers healthcare professionals under the patronage of St. Luke to ask God's blessing upon patients, doctors, nurses, and caregivers. We invite all healthcare professionals and their families to join us for the diocesan White Mass. All are welcome.

We encourage our parishioners to patronize our sponsors. It is through their generosity that our weekly bulletin comes to you at no cost to the church. Our sponsor this week is:

RIVER OAKS HEALTH CAMPUS

Thank you to all the businesses who sponsor our bulletin.
